NUMBER 40

LAMENTABLE DEATH.

Mrs. Sallie Montgomery Rowe, the Beloved Wife of Ben E. Rowe, Dies Suddenly at Her Residence.

FUNERAL SERVICES FRIDAY AFTERNOON

This community was greatly shocked last Thursday morning when the intelligence of the death of this popular and highly respected young woman spread over the city. In fact, but few people knew that she was in a serious condition, and those that were the closest to her, believed that she was doing nicely.

A few hours before her demise she gave birth to a still-born male child, but when the doctor left her bedside there were no alarming symptoms, and this fact was reported to her parents and brothers, who live in town. Evidently in a very short time after this statement was made, she grew rapidly worse and soon her spirit took its flight from a tenement of clay to be at rest in a brighter and happier home.

No tongue can tell the sorrow that was brought to her daughter, Miss Louise, sixteen years old, who was taking special music at Bowling Green. She is the only child, and she was dearly loved by her mother, who took the greatest pride in giving her every advantage, leading to accomplishments. Her father is also indulgent, granting her every wish, but the place of her mother can not be filled, though she is surrounded by all the comforts of life—save the wise counsel of a devoted mother. May God comfort her and may she continue to follow the wise admonitions given by her now sainted mother.

Mrs. Rowe was the only daughter of Hon. Jas. F. and Elizabeth Montgomery, and was born in Jamestown, Ky., November 11, 1879, coming with her parents to Columbia when quite a child. It was here she was reared and educated, and where her friends were numbered by the population of the town.

When quite a young girl she confessed her Savior, united with the Christian Church and a little later she became the organist, she being a skilled musician. She also took an active part in all church work, and was regular in her attendance, hence the organization will greatly miss her, as her place will be hard to fill.

Not only the Church will miss her, but this entire community. She was married to Mr. B. E. Rowe, who is a prominent farmer, October 14, 1902, and two children were born of this union, who are mentioned above.

The funeral services were held at the Christian church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Eld. Z. T. and Mrs. Williams.

Both speakers paid high tribute to the life and Christian character of the deceased. The songs rendered were favorite selections of the departed, and the Scripture read was comforting to the very large multitude of relatives and friends, many who live in other counties.

The building was filled with friends and flowers were very numerous. Her daughter reached here from Bowling Green in due time and also her brother, Ray, of Louisville. Mr. George Montgomery, is here, from Quanah, Texas.

May God comfort the living members of this family is the wish of the writer. She can not return to them, but they can go to her. Peace to the ashes of this lovely character, sympathy for the living.

The Columbia Fair Grounds and buildings will be put in first class condition ready for the Fair, Aug. 30-31 Sept. 1st and 2nd.

L. W. Bennett and Evan Loy landed at this place last Tuesday afternoon with quite a number of fine cattle. They were shipped to market.

Laying of the Corner Stone.

We take the following from the News-Journal, touching the laying of the corner stone for the new Methodist church, Campbellsville:

The corner stone was laid by the building committee, hands laid upon the stone and statement from the Discipline as follows: "We lay this corner stone of a house to be built and set apart, from all worldly uses, for divine worship, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

Among the many articles placed in the Corner Stone for record were an old Bible, some 200 years old, property of Mrs. Emma Stearns; Hymn Book, Methodist Discipline; some old coins and some foreign coins; certified deed to the lot; a key that unlocked the church building which was torn down in 1851; a copy of the Quarterly Minutes of the Campbellsville Circuit, of the Conference year 1861 and 1862. In these minutes was an account of the Second Quarterly meeting, which was to be held at the Campbellsville Church, but owing to the fact that the church was used as a hospital for the Federal soldiers during the Civil war, the meeting was moved to the Mansville Church, also a copy of the Pentecostal Herald, Central Methodist, Christian Advocate, Louisville, Evening Post and The News-Journal were placed in the Corner Stone for record.

Wanted

Ten thousand people to attend the Columbia Fair, Aug. 30-31st Sept. 1st and 2nd. A liberal premium list, all kinds of attractions, good racing every day.

Charley Noak, a boy about twelve years old, who lives with Mr. Charley Morrison, was bitten on the foot by a copperhead snake last Wednesday. Another boy was with him, and having a string, he tied the foot above the bite, and Dr. Flowers was called. The wound was on the great toe, and when the doctor reached the patient all he had to do was to clip the string, split the toe and cauterize it. When he left the boy was in a fair way to recover.

Columbia Fair, Aug. 30-31st Sept. 1st and 2nd

Bakery Sold.

Mr. Geo. O. Barnes, who purchased Mr. J. T. Goodman's residence, has also bought the bakery of Mr. L. W. Bennett, and is now in full charge. He is an experienced baker, having learned and followed the business in the West. He will not remove his family until in the early fall, but he will be here all the time. He and his family will be welcomed to Columbia.

Teachers Association will not be held at Breeding July 29. It will be held August 19.

Mr. Jo Tucker, Campbellsville, and Lunsford Gabbert, who lives on Green river, will soon have a saw and planing mill established at Knifley. The foundation will soon be done and the machinery has been ordered. There is plenty of timber in the neighborhood, and it is predicted that the mill will do a good business.

Col. J. E. Gowdy went to Louisville last week in a Curtis airplane. The trip was made in one hour and ten minutes, making a short stop at a Blue Lick Spring.

Mr. Valmount Cheatham, who lives near town, lost a very valuable mule a few days ago. The animal got caught in a wire fence, and was so badly cut in the body, that death followed.

Miss Laura Smythe has been called to Greensburg, to take charge of the County Superintendent's office the regular elected Superintendent, being in a Summer School for some weeks.

Zach Wade, a colored man, who was employed in the home Mr. J. O. Russell for several months, died at Montpelier last Wednesday. He was a very trust-worthy man.

Election Returns.

We want to report the primary election result from every precinct in Adair county, and in order to do that some friend at each precinct will have to phone the full vote each candidate receives immediately after the vote is counted. Call the operator at Columbia and give out the vote. We will be there to get it. Every body in the county is interested in this matter, and we hope someone will be kind enough to heed our request. Remember that we want the full vote each candidate receives. This is very important, as the whole county will be looking for the result.

Our Gradyville correspondent will please arrange to get the returns from the precincts below him.

Decoration--July 30th.

On July 30th, 1921, there will be Memorial service and a decoration of the graves at White's Graveyard, near Tarter postoffice in Adair county, Ky., when the following program will be carried out substantially.

At 10:30 o'clock a. m., appropriate vocal music for the occasion led by Wolford Bros.

2 Invocation by Rev. Rue Grider.

3 Address by Senator W. F. Neat, giving the history of the families represented in that sacred lot—some of whom are the Jones, Whites, Winfrees and many others.

4 12:30 o'clock, Dinner spread for the crowd.

1:30 o'clock Addresses by Hon. Gordon Montgomery and others.

To the Republican Voters of Adair County Both Men and Women.

I am, a Candidate for the nomination of the Republican party for the office of Sheriff of Adair county, I held this office several years ago, and confidently rely upon the record I then made, as a proof of what I will do in the event of my election again. I will in good faith perform all the duties of the office and will execute every duty which belongs to it to the best of my ability. I think that I know its duties. I shall greatly appreciate your support and assistance in the primary election, where you have the same right to make your assistance and influence felt in procuring good government as any one else has, and if successful I promise to so perform the duties of the office that you will not regret the help you gave me.

Respectfully,
W. B. Patteson.

Returned to the Bank of Columbia

Mr. Rollin Cundiff, who resigned his position at the Bank of Columbia, to enter the army in September, 1917, returned to his former position last Wednesday morning, and besides waiting upon customers, he will keep a set of books. He is a young man of excellent character, splendid business qualifications and very attentive to duty. His friends throughout the county will be glad to learn that he is back to his former position.

Get your stock ready for the Columbia Fair.

A good farmer informed the News, last Wednesday, that the rain which fell last Tuesday, assures a good corn crop for Adair county. He said that the corn had commenced to twist in day, but that it opened out in the night, and was really not hurt but little before the rain came.

The following marriages took place in Russell county last week: Mr. John Vaughan was happily united to Miss Mary Gaines. Mr. Omry Stephens was united to Miss Susan Scales.

The Columbia team was defeated in two games at Tompkinsville. The first game was 7 to 4 and the latter 14 to 4.

The latter part of last week the mornings and evenings were much cooler.

On July 2nd Mr. Chas. Pierce, age 28, and Miss Anna Griffin, age 18, both of Ashland, drove to Coalgate and were united in marriage at the court house, Judge Pendleton officiating. On their return home they were greeted by their many friends. The groom is a son of Kate Pierce, formerly of Adair Co. The bride is a daughter of U. S. Griffin, of Ashland. They will reside near Ashland. Their many friends join in wishing them much happiness.

The Columbia Fair has been incorporated. H. A. Walker Pres. S. M. Burdette, Vice Pres. J. B. Coffey, Sec'y. J. L. Walker. Treasurer.

Mr. Ray Caldwell caught a catfish out of Russell creek, near the mouth of Pettisfork, that was forty-two inches long and weighed thirty-two pounds. He exhibited it to a great many Columbians in the afternoon, same day.

We have received a boost for one of the candidates for sheriff. It is paid matter, but the writer does not say that he will foot the bill, hence we can not give to the public.

The primary is going to bring some surprises. Some men who believe they are sure winners are going to be defeated.

No better shows have been thrown on the screen than the ones that will appear this week. Thursday and Saturday nights.

What Would You Give?

What would you give if you could cut loose from everything and go back about thirty years and start all over again? Would you be willing to abandon all of your experience and take the same chances of picking out a primrose way—do you think you could improve on the situation.

Have you ever had the opportunity of testing out this "come back" in just a little way? If you haven't don't attempt it, for the things that were, are no more—you can't find them; the trail is lost.

There is always some Treasure Island where in fancy we have buried the joys of our past. We always feel that we can return to the very spot of our leave-taking and dig them up for just a moment of joyous retrospection, but such dreams are empty mocking ones.

There's the old swimming hole proclaimed in all literature as the one spot on earth nearest the boy's heart. There's the big rock you used to dive from. The long shady lane up which you drove the cows at sunset. The friendly dog which was just as much a part of your joyousness as the boy companions whose carefree meanderings led you into the mysteries and fullness of nature.

You can't find them there, for they picked up and left the old place when you abandoned them for this great today which was only your tomorrow yesterday. They have followed you—the old gang is yet rallying to your call whenever your turn the stile of memory and get out on the open road of sweet dreams and summons them to you. They are somewhere on the great highway; they have carved their initials on the smoothest bark of the old trees which reach aloft through the clouds of fancy that you may follow them.

Don't forget them; don't forget any of those joys which have given you this indelible picture of your yesterday.—Ex.

Marriage Licenses.

County Court Clerk S. C. Neat has, in the last few days, issued the following marriage licenses:

Clay Scott to Bartie Wingler.
Clark A. Garmin to Susan Grider.
Graham Keltner to Artie Collins.
John L. Coffey to Fannie Burton.
E. W. Page to Ada Jones.

John Hutchison to Fannie Brockman.

Bob Helt to Mary Lee Rexroat.
Erastus Cundiff to Flora Lee Cundiff.

We desire to return our grateful thanks to the many kind friends who waited upon our beloved wife and mother during her illness.

Rev. S. P. Sullivan and children.

Judge Smith, Republican, candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney; and Mr. Hebron Lawrence, Republican candidate for Circuit Judge, had a number of appointments to speak in Adair county last week. Judge Carter is holding his courts and A. A. Huddleston is looking after the State's business.

Our former Sparksville correspondent has concluded, so we are informed, that there is no paper like the Adair County News, and that he will at once commence sending in his contributions.

Ten days from the date of this paper until the primary. Boys, if you win you must hustle.

About five weeks until the Lindsey-Wilson and the Columbia Graded and High School opens. Mr. Bennett, principal of the Lindsey-Wilson, informs us that the prospects are fine for a full school this coming year.

Resolutions.

Resolutions adopted by the Presbyterian Sunday school on the death of Miss Octavia M. Reed, who departed this life in hospital at Louisville, Ky., on the 12th of July, 1921:

Resolved, That this school desires to express its sense of the great loss it has sustained in the death of Miss Octavia M. Reed, who has been one of its most faithful teachers for many years.

From childhood, when at home, she has been a regular attendant at its services, zealously devoted to the promotion of its work in the community. She will be sadly missed in church and school. Her life was a life of consecrated christian service, quiet unostentatious, the influence of which will continue after her name is forgotten—for, the influence of a life so beautiful and consistent is not lost by death, but continues and widens in the years to come in the lives of others. Her earthly work ended she has entered into rest.

Can we not believe and say of her, contemplate her character,

"Blessed are they who do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city."

The One Sure Thing.

"Repeat it over and over—it cannot be repeated too often or too forcibly—that the insurance called for by a policy in force at the time a policyholder dies is real money, not make believe, not just figures on paper; not subject to diminution by debts; free even of death duties up to a considerable amount if made payable to a named beneficiary. Life insurance is one unshakable and never disappointing provision for dependents. The only regret ever felt in connection with it is that its amount was not larger, or that it had been taken and been kept going when it was not. If this can be said of any form of known provision, what is that provision?"

Mr. J. A. Willis and Mr. W. C. Murrell have commenced remodeling Miss Mollie Caldwell's residence. A number of changes in appearance will be made, and when they finish the work in progress, the home will look like a new dwelling. The roof is to be changed, new porches built, hardwood floors laid, making it one of Columbia's handsome residences.

Hands were at work from early morning to late at night, the first of last week, removing the old vault at the Bank of Columbia; making ready for the door for the new vault, which was to arrive Wednesday. It weighs, so we are told, 12,000 pounds, and the experts from the factory were here to place it. It now looks like this banking institution will soon be completed. The out and inside of the building are to be repainted.

Mr. L. C. Winfrey is preparing to make valuable improvements at his residence. New porches and a great deal of concrete will be laid. The entire building will be repainted.

Mr. Geo. O. Barnes, of Russell county, has purchased Mr. J. T. Goodman's home, this place, and will remove to Columbia in a short time. The price is private.

The rain that fell last Tuesday greatly revived vegetation.

BUILD WORLD'S BIGGEST HANGAR

Navy Air Terminal Will House Two Giant U. S. Dirigibles Now Building.

MANY WONDERFUL FEATURES

Monster Doors Are Opened and Closed by an Electric Motor—Structure Would Cover Three Ordinary City Blocks.

New York.—America's first great terminal for giant aircraft is nearing completion at Lakehurst, N. J. The structure, the largest of its kind on earth, is 803 feet long, 264 feet wide and 195 feet high. Some idea of its immense size may be gleaned from the fact that if set down in a city the hangar would occupy three solid blocks. Its doors at each end stand more than 175 feet high and are 264 feet wide. A 16-story skyscraper could be pushed through the space disclosed by the doors when they are opened.

The hangar is officially known as the United States navy airship hangar, and represents the latest word in construction for buildings of this type. It is planned to have it ready in the early summer to house the two giant dirigibles now under construction, the ZR-1, building at League island navy yard, Philadelphia, and the ZR-2, nearing completion in England. The trans-Atlantic flight of the latter is scheduled for late in July or early in August, and the Navy department plans to have the hangar completed for service before the airships are ready to sail.

Giant Mooring Mast a Feature. Incidental to the hangar is a gigantic mooring mast to which great dirigibles may be tied when it is impracticable to house them inside the hangar. The mast is so constructed that the giants of the air will be moored, bow on, and will swing in the direction of the wind, thus avoiding the dangerous force exerted by high winds.

The result of experiments with the Lakehurst mooring mast will determine the policy of the Navy department in erecting similar mooring masts at various air stations throughout the country, such as Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, San Francisco, Seattle, New Orleans, Atlanta, Columbus, O., and San Diego.

The new airships nearing completion are of such large proportions, each being 700 feet long and 85 feet in diameter, as large as many of the great ocean liners, that the matter of "docking" them presented serious problems in engineering, but it is believed that the Lakehurst hangar will go far toward solving many of these problems.

Door Leaf Weighs 800 Tons. First in importance came the question of doors to the hangar. Each leaf of the two doors, there being two leaves to a door, is made up of 800 tons of steel and corrugated asbestos. These leaves are supported on concrete trucks which in turn rest on wheels the size of those on a freight car. The leaves are rolled apart by a 25-horsepower electric motor. If man-power were needed to open the doors, it is estimated that 1,500 men would be called on.

Naval experts calculate that the giant doors can be rolled wide open within 13 minutes and the entire process of housing one of the dirigibles will consume approximately 40 minutes.

Running lengthwise through the hangar is a railroad and three trolley slots technically described as docking rails. The dirigible about to enter the hangar will be cable-fastened to these rails, which extend on a 1,500-foot runway at either end, and guided to its berth.

Under the roof among a network of steel rafters, five monorail cranes support movable platforms which enable workmen to repair an aircraft after it has docked. These rafters are so far above the floor of the hangar that the workmen resolve themselves into mere specks.

So large are the glass windows in the sides and the roof that individual motors are necessary to open each window.

HORSES ON WANE IN CITIES

Chicago Had 30,338 in 1920, Against 68,122 Ten Years Ago, According to Census.

Washington.—A marked reduction during the last decade in the number of draft animals employed in the largest cities was shown by the 1920 census. Figures made public by the census bureau showed 56,539 horses in New York city, compared with 128,224 in 1910, and 30,338 in Chicago, against 68,122.

Figures for other cities included: Philadelphia, 19,472 and 50,461; Baltimore, 7,378 and 15,346; Boston, 10,003 and 23,007; Pittsburgh, 6,023 and 12,845; Cincinnati, 5,031 and 13,901; Cleveland, 4,924 and 16,839.

PARTISAN POLITICS NOT WANTED

Authorities On Both Sides Agree That School Offices Should Not Be Political Plums

TIGERT APPOINTED NEW COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION.

John J. Tigert, college professor of Lexington, Kentucky, who has been appointed Commissioner of Education to succeed Philander P. Claxton.

Two important amendments to the constitution of the state will be voted on at the November election. The general public is anxious to know more about these amendments and how they may help the definite development of a strong school system in Kentucky.

Your correspondent has been fortunate in securing a strong, short, and very much-to-the-point statement concerning the proposed amendments from the Hon. J. Tigert. What Mr. Tigert has to say on the important subject of schools, should carry a great weight as he has lately been appointed Commissioner of Education for the United States by President Harding. Mr. Tigert was one of the faculty of the University of Kentucky prior to his appointment as Commissioner.

Mr. Tigert's statement is given below:

"In reply to your questions suggesting an expression in regard to the proposed constitutional amendments, one to take the State Superintendent of Instruction out of politics, and the other to allow a reapportionment of the State funds for school purposes, allow me to say that I do not know anything which would advance the cause of education in this Commonwealth more than the passage of these two amendments.

Keep Out of Politics.

"If the State Superintendent could be selected upon qualifications and aside from the issues of political campaigns, and then be allowed to continue in office after he has reached a high degree of efficiency, this one thing alone would improve the efficiency of our schools in an immeasurable way. I do not know of anything so important for the betterment of education in Kentucky.

Child Needs Square Deal.

"Hardly less desirable would be the amendment which would bring about a reapportionment of the funds so that educational opportunities might be equalized throughout the state. Giving a square deal to the children in the rural communities, to my mind, would be an inestimable benefit coming from such a reapportionment. It would give me great satisfaction if both of these amendments could be passed. In the name of the children of our great state, let us put them through."

CLAXTON ALSO APPROVES.

That men and women in both of the great political parties think alike concerning the management of the public schools of the state, should go without the saying. For fear the average voter might allow partisan politics to sway him or her at the November election, some quotations from a recent article by the Hon. P. P. Claxton, are given here. Mr. Claxton of Tennessee served as Commissioner of Education for the United States under President Woodrow Wilson.

The reader is asked to compare what the new Commissioner has said above and what the retiring Commissioner has to say below concerning the very grave danger of mixing politics with the school affairs of the state. The reader should bear in mind the fact that these men represent in a measure the two great parties.

Mr. Claxton wrote as follows: "Like Topsey, our state departments of education have just 'grewed up.' Few of them can look back to any definite birth as state departments of education. Very few, if any, except those that have been re-elected by recent acts of legislature or constitutional amendments, have been thoughtfully created and organized in full consciousness of the functions they should perform."

Office Is Not Political.

"In most of the states the mistake was made of supposing that the office of State Superintendent could be made a political office subject directly or indirectly to the vicissitudes of partisan government, as if, forsooth, the political parties as such ever advocated different educational policies, and as if the people would tolerate partisan influences in their schools. As a political office, elective or appointive, it did not formerly and in some states does not now, rank with other offices, either in pay or in importance within itself, or as a stepping stone to political preferment considered of a higher grade or more desirable.

All Equally Interested.

"From the standpoint of statesmanship and the public welfare, all people are interested alike in the schools. Our political parties do not differ in regard to educational principles or practices any more than they do in the Ten Commandments or the moral code; and to attempt to make education a matter of partisan politics is good neither for education nor for politics. Education is the largest and most important part of what has been called our 'purposive government,' through which all the people are served and united, rather than controlled under policies on which people are divided into parties."

When Gossips Talk.

Talk is cheap if you get it from a gossip," says an exchange.

But it isn't.

Talk that comes from a gossip is expensive.

It kills time, it kills truthfulness, it kills decency and it kills morality.

A reputation that has been built up by a lifetime of correct living may be blasted in a day by the talk of a gossip.

The milk of human kindness is curdled when it comes in contact with the tongue of the gossip.

The gossip sees but little that is good and much that is bad in human nature.

And gossips will talk, and people will listen, and believe and condemn.

COLVIN FAVORS THE AMENDMENTS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Gives Reasons for Changes Asked In School Laws

Kentucky is perilously close to the end of the line of states in the education of her children. She is only three places from the end of that long line. This bare statement of a very disagreeable fact should force every red-blooded man and woman in the state to resolve that a change must be made in the near future for the children of the state.

The following statement, which was given your reporter when he visited Frankfort lately, is what the Hon. George Colvin, the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction, thinks of the school situation in Kentucky at this writing. Every man and woman in Kentucky should read it most carefully and then act definitely when voting on the two amendments to the Constitution at the November election:

"Education in Kentucky in the past has suffered more from lack of a definite policy and a continued program than from any other single cause. Every four years administration of our schools is changed. Under the law no State Superintendent can succeed himself. Our school laws are a sort of legislative crazy quilt. Each succeeding Superintendent adds a patch or two that may or may not harmonize with the whole. No business can succeed if its policies are changed every four years. The administration of schools is the State's biggest business. In no department of government is a permanent program more necessary than in the administration of schools. Kentucky will not have better schools until she has better administration of her schools. Kentucky will not have better administration of her schools so long as she has politically elected Superintendents serving only four years.

System a Growth.

"A school system is a growth and not an enactment. It cannot be created overnight. It must conform to the genius of the people of the state. It must meet the needs of the people of the state. Kentucky cannot borrow from any state a school system that will entirely meet her needs. She must develop her own system. It will need Kentucky's best leadership to develop this system. This leadership cannot be had under the present method of selecting State Superintendents.

"Those who tell us that Kentucky has not suffered from politically elected Superintendents are either misinformed or are deliberately misleading.

the people. In education Kentucky ranks forty-fifth among the states. Until recently the attendance in our public schools was 37 per cent. Our teachers are not only the most poorly paid but they are the most poorly prepared of any state in the Union with the possible exception of two. It is not because Kentucky children cannot be taught; it is not because Kentucky teachers lack capacity to learn or devotion to teach; it is simply because children and teachers alike have not been given a chance. No man who loves Kentucky, who loves Kentucky's childhood can be satisfied with Kentucky's condition educationally. Nothing has contributed to this condition more largely than lack of competent, conscientious, continued, educational leadership.

Parties Back Movement.

"Both political parties in Kentucky have proposed through a plank in their platforms to take the office of State Superintendent out of politics and to place it upon a professional basis and to make it possible for a Superintendent to succeed himself. The administration of our schools ought not to be a political issue. The rights of our children do not admit of any division of opinion. Democrats and Republicans alike believe that the Kentucky child should be given a school system worthy of that child. The two political parties do not differ in their attitude toward schools any more than they differ in their attitude toward the Ten Commandments. The adoption of the proposed Constitutional Amendment will unite the two parties in practice even as they are now united in principle in their support of schools. The adoption of the amendment will give the Legislature the power to fix the term of the Superintendent; will give the Legislature the power to prescribe the manner of his election; will give the Legislature the power to place the office upon a professional rather than on a political basis. The State Superintendent is the only school administrator in Kentucky that is now politically elected. The President of the University is appointed by a competent board because of professional fitness alone. The Presidents of the two Normal Schools are appointed in the same way. The superintendents of our city schools are appointed by boards because of demonstrated fitness not because of political affiliation. County superintendents are appointed again in the same way.

Is Not a Political Issue.

"There is no opposition to the amendment anywhere. It has been unanimously endorsed by the Kentucky Educational Association. The Kentucky Educational Survey Commission insists that we cannot hope for any great improvement in our schools until this amendment has been adopted. The Federated Women's Clubs of Kentucky have endorsed it. Rotary Clubs and Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce throughout the state have endorsed it. Both political parties have endorsed it. The Legislature that proposed it did so by the votes of the members of both parties. It is not a political issue. It is not proposed in the interest of this party or that party; it is proposed solely in the interest of the Kentucky child. For the sake of the Kentucky child, the Kentucky voters should make the vote in favor of the amendment so overwhelming that no man could any longer be in doubt about Kentucky's determination to have a school system equal to any in the nation."

What is a Bushel,

"Thirty-two quarts make one bushel," recites Young America glibly and positively.

But the housewife who has purchased family supplies for years is not at all sure but that this one of the many rules that have their exceptions.

Specialists of the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture, say that the heaped bushel varies with the price of the product and the weight bushel varies widely in different states.

A bushel of sweet potatoes is 46 pounds in the Dakotas and 60 pounds in Maryland.

A bushel of tomatoes is 46 pounds in Oklahoma and 60 pounds in Virginia.

A bushel of unshelled green peas is 28 pounds in Massachusetts and 56 pounds in Pennsylvania.

The Bureau of Markets recommends the adoption of the "struck" bushel—the Winchester bushel of 2,150.42 cubic inches—as the unit for package standards.

We read an article the other day which reminded us of the battle of New Orleans which was fought six months after peace had been declared.

The Republicans elected Mr. Harding because they believed he would bring better times. As they get worse all time the next Presidential election will bring a change.

The commonalty of the Republican party like good times as well as any other class of men, but if taxes are not reduced there is going to be an influx to the Democratic party.

Mr. W. J. Bryan has been billed to speak at Chicago on Labor Day. Opposition among the laborers to his appearance has developed because Mr. Bryan is opposed to beer.

An exciting race for County Judge is on in Lincoln county with three candidates in the field, H. Rowan Saufley being one of the number. We do not know how the Democrats of Lincoln will vote, but we do know that Mr. Saufley would make a very efficient official.

We do not know how many pardons Gov. Morrow has issued, but from all reports more than any other chief Executive of the State ever signed. Mr. Morrow was vehemently opposed to exercising the pardoning power when he was a candidate for Governor. Some men will change their minds.

Medical science continues to advance. Last Tuesday, in New York City, Frank Farino, 16 years old, who lives in Brooklyn, was recovering after his heart was accidentally pierced by a knife. The boy was at work, cutting a rope when the knife slipped and penetrated his heart, piercing the heart covering and cutting through the muscles. He was hurried to a hospital where surgeons took four stitches in the heart muscles and three in the covering. It is believed the boy will get well.

"Yes I've more Time for Myself Since I Got a Fordson"

The Fordson Tractor is taking much of the drudgery out of farm life; it is solving the labor problem; it is reducing the cost of preparing land by almost one half of what it was with horses; and it is saving one third to one half of the farmer's time; and making farm life more attractive.

The Fordson will run your threshing machine—and at the most opportune time for you. It will operate the milking machines, saw your wood, fill your silo, pump the water, and take care of every kind of belt work—

And don't forget—it will plow six to eight acres in a ten hour day, handling two plows with ease.

Thus the Fordson is the ideal year-round tractor. It will pay for its fall and winter keep in many ways.

There's a big story to tell you about the Fordson—and a true one—come in and get the facts. Or, if you prefer, telephone or drop us a card and we will bring them to you.

It is remarkable how fast land is depreciating in Kentucky. Mr. Ed Allen, who is a member of a Trust firm at Danville, was here one day last week, and he said us, that many farmers who purchased farms in Central Kentucky two years ago, at fabulous prices, paying one-third down, are returning them, losing the first payment, for the reason they can not raise the balance due on the farms. Times are not only tight in Adair county, but all over Kentucky.

OIL AND GAS

Adair, Cumberland, Russell
Counties, Kentucky.

BY E. T. KEMPER.

Notwithstanding the fact that the oil situation is rather quite at present, caused by low prices and light demand, there is apparently very little let up in development work in this immediate territory. Drills are pounding away on every side and many new drilling contracts are being made for the completion of additional wells at the earliest possible date.

Dr. J. B. Foggin, president of the Bagdad Oil Corporation, Chicago, was here this week on his way home from the Creelsboro, field where the concern is drilling for the Wood Oil Company. He reported they would at once begin the drilling of another well for the Wood people on the J. C. Oliver farm.

Mr. G. R. Reed, manager of the Reed Syndicate, Columbia, who has been spending a few days in the field, reports they are down something over 400 feet in well No. 2 on the farm of Campbell Brothers, Creelsboro, and that they expect to make a deep test there, possibly going down to the Trenton sand. They have encountered a heavy gas pressure at different depths, and they have had a number of good shows for oil. Well No. 1 on the same farm, completed recently, still bids fair to be a good producer.

Mr. Lucien Buckner, the well-known geologist of Winchester, Ky., was here the first of last week for the purpose of making reports on certain oil and gas leases, in Cumberland, but his visit was cut short on account of his sustaining a compound and painful fracture of the right forearm, wrist and hand, while cranking a car near Burkesville. His many friends here hope he may soon recover from the injury.

Reports from the Cumberland fields are to the effect that a number of wells will be drilled there at no distant date. The Daniel Boone Oil Company and the Gartland interests are among those who are reported as getting ready to put down several wells in the vicinity of Neely's Ferry. Additional drilling will also be done within the next few weeks in the Brush Creek field.

As indicated in an item appearing in this department week before last, a large and up-to-date refinery is to be built at Bakerton, Cumberland county, Ky., just across Cumberland River from the great Brush Creek field, the work to begin within the very near future, and the erection of the buildings and the installation of the equipment will be pushed to the limit. Messrs. J. F. Donnelly and J. H. Hutchinson, well-informed and experienced refinery men, of Blackwell, Oklahoma, have been here during the past few days for the purpose of making a survey of the territory and in testing the crude oil fresh from the wells, and they were more than pleased with what they found in connection with the situation.

All arrangements are being perfected for the building of the plant without delay. A special patented process for refining, known as the "tower system," and which is owned by the gentlemen named above, is to be installed. Great claims are made for this process in saving both in the cost of construction of the plant, and also in the refining cost. The plant is expected to have a daily capacity of around 200 barrels of crude oil at the start, and it will be so constructed that additional units can be built from time to time as conditions will warrant.

BALKING THE RUM RUNNERS.

Is there a powerful syndicate engaged in whisky running in Kentucky ready to bribe officers of the law who may stand in their way? This may be inferred from the testimony adduced at the hearing of alleged whisky runners in Georgetown.

Two policemen swore that the men alleged to have been transporting contraband liquor offered them bribes to allow the alleged runners to proceed on their way. They testified that they were offered $250 to let a small car pass unmolested and $500 for each truck laden with liquor. They asserted on the witness stand that the suspects told them of a powerful whisky ring with plenty of money to pay for protection.

The testimony of the Georgetown officers tends to confirm the opinion held by many people that the success of the whisky runners in Kentucky has largely been due to the connivance of some officials who were well paid for their dereliction of duty. The whisky ring seems to have proceeded on the theory that every official has his price. The attitude of the Georgetown officers, however, appears to have upset the calculations of the rum smugglers.

If the disclosures at the Georgetown trial result in any appreciable falling off in rum running in this State, it will be taken as conclusive evidence that previous successes in the unhampered transportation of stolen liquor were obtained through the corruption of officials. The Georgetown officers are to be commended for their fidelity to duty.—Louisville Times.

Cane Valley.

The happenings of this village are not very startling, but your writer wants to see Cane Valley represented in the News each week.

Dr. N. M. Hancock, who was taken quite ill a short time ago, is now up, attending his calls.

The bank at this place is doing a very good business, notwithstanding the cry of hard time is daily heard upon our streets.

Mr. J. W. Sublett is doing quite a bit of trading in hogs and cattle. He is a liberal buyer and pays cash for stock. He was in the goods business here for many years and was very much liked as a merchant.

The Judd boys and Mark Wilson who are engaged at Monticello, write that they are kept busy daily. The Judd boys are building houses and Mark is running a blacksmith's shop.

Mr. John Green Sublett, who is one of antiquities of this place, is in town every day. He knows how to make a dollar, and makes it with as little effort as the next man.

Tobacco in the vicinity of the Valley is not looking as well as the growers would like. Too much dry weather.

Corn is looking thrifty. The recent rains have helped it wonderfully, and it now looks like a good crop will be gathered.

Mr. Sam Banks and Mr. A. H. Judd, two of the oldest men in this locality, are in fairly good health. They are both past their four score and have been voting Democratic since they reached their majority.

Mrs. Geo. Banks, of Texas, recently visited here.

The hay crop in this locality is very good. It has all been stacked, and you can see this feed all along the pike.

People who visit Cane Valley, who live about Campbellsville, grumble about the bad condition of the Adair end of the pike. They want to know the reason for not putting on metal.

Aircraft.

Regardless of the outcome of the spirited controversy now raging over the comparative advantages of aircraft and battle-ships as America's first line of defense, both the United States army and navy are to have more lighter-than-air ships — orders for three large dirigibles and 38 observation balloons having just been placed with The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. Two patrol and scouting airships of 180,000 cubic feet gas capacity will be built for the navy and will be completed next spring. A dirigible of similar size but of a special Goodyear design will be completed for the army by November. All three will be tested at the Goodyear-Akron air station. The military airship to be built for the army will have many new features of design that makes it the most up-to-date craft in either arm of the service. It will be the first dirigible in America to have its motors in the car instead of in separate power units. Two propellers will be driven by bevel gears at a two to one ratio with transmission placed on outriggers instead of the motors driving direct to shafts. This will allow the engines to run while the propellers are idle by throwing out clutches, and will also permit propellers to be reversed—a new feature that will permit greater facility in landing. Either motor can drive both propellers in the event that one motor develops trouble. With both motors inboard, they can be overhauled in flight much easier than if they were on outriggers, as in the present types of airship. The army ship will be 170 feet long and 45 feet in diameter. It will be powered by two 125 horse-power Aeromarine motors which will operate at 1,600 revolutions per minute, but owing to the reduction gear, the propellers will make but 800 revolutions per minute, giving greater efficiency at higher speeds. A speed of miles an hour is expected. The ship's "ceiling" is 10,000 feet. The gas bags will be of pony blimp shape—"fatter" than other types—thus decreasing head resistance. The car will be entirely enclosed and will house a crew of six, although three men can operate the dirigible for peace-time purposes. The army will use this airship probably for border patrol, while the two navy ships will be used for scouting and observation.

Advertise In The News

A Splendid Offer.

Here is a proposition we make to readers who want a city paper, but do not want a daily:

We will furnish the Adair County News and the St. Louis Twice-a-week Globe Democrat for $1.90 per year, in Kentucky. To subscribers living in other States $2.40.

The Twice-a-week Globe Democrat is one of the best and newest papers published in this country. We do not know how long this proposition will hold good, therefore, if you want the papers, call or send in your subscription at once.

The high ideals of the days of knighthood have been brought into the giant productive industries that enable the motor car to transport each year in the United States the equivalent of carrying one driver 4,800,000,000 miles. Every twenty seconds the motor-car transports a rider from Augusta to Los Angeles. Day and night this lonely motorist travels at the rate of 9133 miles a minute. Each second of the year $1.20 in tires has to be made, transported, sold and fitted on a car. With all this stupendous activity can the motor car driver recognize his share of responsibility to other drivers and to the public? Can he maintain for this giant industry the favor of the people? For it rests in his hands whether with rapidly increasing road congestion he will continue to be treated with cordiality, says the United States Tire Company in one of its "courtesy bulletins." Today many cities must have elaborate traffic and policing regulations and the traffic is growing. The careless driver, the thoughtless driver, the driver who does not force himself to be a "knight" and "gentlemen" will greatly increase the danger of motoring to the pedestrian, to other drivers, and to himself and jeopardize the privileges he has hitherto enjoyed.

Don'ts on Marriage.

The Rev. A. L. Ward, pastor of a church in Franklin, Ind., recently in a sermon to a young woman on marriage, gave 15 "don'ts." He said:

"Don't jump at the first offer because you fear you will not get another.

"Don't marry a man unless he is well spoken of at home.

"Don't marry a man for whom you do not have the highest respect.

"Don't marry a man simply because he is gallant and dashing.

"Don't marry a man because he remembers you with beautiful flowers.

"Don't marry a man who neglects his mother or sisters.

"Don't marry a man to reform him.

"Don't marry a man who is selfish.

"Don't marry a man for his money.

"Don't marry a man who ridicules your religion.

"Don't marry a man who is cruel.

"Don't marry a man to spite another man or woman.

"Don't marry a man about whose habits you are not quite certain.

"Don't get the foolish and fatal notion that a rogue makes a good husband."

High Cost of Talking.

Congresswoman Alice Robertson has appealed to congress to "stop talking and save money."

Right—a dead center shot. There must be a great surplus of wind in congress when a woman deems it expedient to appeal to the men to talk less at the expense of their countrymen.

The congresswoman estimates that one week of congressional talking costs the country nearly ten thousand dollars in printing bills, and that only covers a part of the expense.

And yet there are two sides to even this question:

If you distinguished congresswomen were not talking us poor in Washington they might be talking us to death at home.

We hate to part with our money, but we are determined to cling to life.

Let 'em talk—in Washington.

Everyday Allusions.

A lot of people believe today that the expression "Mad as a March Hare" has something to do with the queer antics of one of the characters in Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland."

The truth is, that the saying is based upon popular usage of a natural history fact.

In the month of March, which is their mating and breeding time, the hares of our fields and those of England, Belgium and other countries where these rodents abound, become victims of fits which at times send them bounding like wild things through the woods and across the meadows.

To be as "Mad as a March Hare" does not mean insanity, but irrationality, a stage of mental wildness that will make people act as though they had lost a proper sense of proportion, without, however having their mental abilities permanently impaired.—Cleveland Plain Dealer

Jamestown.

The primary is discussed daily in this town and who will win is the question. The candidates all claim that they will be victors, but beyond question somebody is going down in defeat.

To your correspondent Mr. Hill seems to be in the lead for County Judge, Hughes or Callahan for Sheriff, Attis McFarland for County clerk and H. H. Dunbar for Circuit clerk. Winfield Knight would make a splendid representative, and he ought to be nominated. But it is not always the case that the best man wins.

In the district races Carter and Huddleston are decidedly in the lead, though neither one of these gentlemen have been in the county since circuit court.

The lot of land that was sold off in lots here, two years ago, stands just as it was sold. It is a shame that cottages have not been erected.

Health Report.

The State Board of Health has been able to obtain more results in the improvement of public health in the biennial period from March 31, 1919, to March 31, 1921, than in any previous ten years of its existence. H. E. James, State Examiner and Inspector, declared in his report to Governor Edwin P. Morrow, after completing his investigation into the work of the board for the period in question.

"The records indicate," the report also states, "that our State Health Department has secured the co-operation of all agencies interested in public health and welfare in the State to a degree not attained in any other State and at the smallest per capita cost of any State in the Union which is doing effective work."

The work of the board has been managed efficiently and economically. Its members, who receive no salaries, and its officers and employees, who receive smaller salaries than those paid in any other state, have performed a patriotic service for which they deserve the gratitude of the people of Kentucky."

The features of the two years which Mr. James especially praised were the development of eight full time county health departments, the establishment of a school of public health in connection with the University of Louisville, the recognition by the State of its responsibility in the relief of trachoma and the organization of a State Bureau for the elimination of the disease, the inauguration of a course in physical education for the common schools, and the purchase of a modern office building in Louisville as a home for all the activities of the State Board of Health.

World Events.

Two events of epochal importance loom large on the horizon of world affairs. One is the effort at peace in Ireland and the other is the disarmament conference suggested by President Harding.

The two projects are alike in this respect: Neither has been accomplished. It is proposed, but not disposed, yet a step in the right direction has been made in both, and that much is important.

The conferences on the Irish question which began in London last week will hardly fail of settlement, although many difficulties surround them. The degree of conciliation which the opposing leaders approach the meeting counts for much, and Gen. Smuts is at such a high point in the respect and esteem of both factions as to make him unusually effective in the role of mediator. Mr. Lloyd George is at his best in such a conference. Those who read Mr. Lansing's description of the British Premier's work at Versailles can see the sturdy Welshman fairly revelling in the rough-and-tumble diplomatic battle he may have with the Irish before a settlement is reached. Of De Valera as a diplomat little is known, but he seems to be vested with the full power of the Sinn Fein group, which is important for the purposes of the conference, even if it does not add to his esteem in many persons' opinion.

The disarmament conference proposed by President Harding has met with a hearty reception. As this is written only Japan, of the four great powers addressed, has failed to accept, and unofficial word from Japan is that its acceptance is assured, and will be no less hearty than the others.

The announcement of Great Britain's position by the Premier brought the greatest cheer in the House of Commons since the word of the armistice. There are similar reports from France and Italy. The English and Continental press has, almost without exception, welcomed the move.

The world, which is being crushed under the weight of tax burdens, sees in mutual disarmament, the only hope of real relief. Not only will taxes be lighter, but small armaments will decrease the possibilities of war, the very thing that has imposed the present burden. The sentiment for disarmament is universal, and it will find concrete expression from the nations in the Washington conference this fall. —E-Town News.

"LAWN MERE"

HENRY BAUGHMAN'S

Splendid 197 Acre Farm

(SUBDIVIDED)

Live Stock, Etc., Also 2 Small Farms At Public Auction on the Premises

Wednesday Aug. 3, 10 a. m.

RAIN OR SHINE

This magnificent estate is located 2 1/2 miles from Hustonville on the Bradfordsville turnpike. Everybody knows about the land around the good town of Hustonville—no better in the State.

When Mr. Baughman bought this Handsome Property about a year ago for a permanent home little did he dream at that time it would ever be on the market again. But man proposes and God disposes. Since then he has lost his father and it has made a great change. He has already made arrangements with the heirs to take over the home place of his father, J. K. Baughman, and for this reason only is disposing of these valuable holdings at a sacrifice to put the money in the "Old Home Place" around which so many sweet memories and sentiments of by-gone days cluster. It will be an ABSOLUTE SALE.

IMPROVEMENTS: Elegant two-story residence of ten rooms, fully equipped bath room, halls, three porches, large cellar or dairy right at door in which things were never known to freeze. Besides the water works system in this home there is also an Acetylene light plant. Tenant house of three rooms, small barn: two large stock barns, cow barn, jack barn, buggy house, garage, mill shed, cribs, silos and all kinds of outbuildings, including stock scales.

FINE WATER: Three everlasting springs, cistern at house, medicated water in porch, pond, concrete troughs, etc. In fact enough water for the whole community at any time during the town of Hustonville thrown in. Splendid orchard of about 100 trees, good variety of apples, pears, peaches, cherries, etc. Fencing A-1.

All of this farm lies exceedingly well—a regular tractor farm. Prior to Mr. Baughman's purchase last year it had been in the Carpenter family for forty-five years. It had been carefully farmed for forty years by Mr. Calvin Carpenter. It has been petted and pampered. Is now in the highest state of cultivation and ready to Punch and make good money. All in grass except 56 acres in corn, 10 acres tobacco. The best tobacco crop in Lincoln, Boyle or Garrard counties. By their fruits ye shall know them. Just look at the growing crops on this good dirt and judge ye. YOU had better join the crowd and attend this sale. They will be there and one look at this HOME will make your mouth water and long to call it your own. It will be subdivided into tracts to suit the purchaser. The farm is cut into ten fields besides the numerous lots. Beautiful approach, fine shade, lovely location for a HOME, an ideal place to live, splendid neighborhood, etc. This place is all we claim for it and more. Written words words cannot do it justice. You must see it to appreciate what it really is. We invite the closest inspection, for we know the more you look the more you will bid. Personality consists of live stock, etc.

Everything about this property is in apple pie order. Mr. Baughman has spent a lot of money putting in hardwood floors and other improvements. He knows that he has got to lose all of this and a pile of money on the farm. Let come what will you will always find Henry Baughman a MAN—his word is always his bond and he is game to the core. He invites you to this sale and asks YOU to say what it is worth and he is going to make you a deal.

At the same time and place we will sell for him for the High Dollar a 30 acre tract joining the above tract. All in grass. Has a good ten-acre tobacco barn and plenty of everlasting water.

Also what is known as the "Crisp Place," containing about 56 acres one mile off the Bradfordsville pike. Every acre of it is hemp and tobacco land. All of it in blue grass and timothy except six acres in corn. It has been in grass for years and years. Well watered and fenced. Small orchard. House of six rooms, new front porch, halls, etc., cistern at door, good stock barn and four-acre tobacco barn, and all other necessary outbuilding. A dandy little home for some one.

ABSOLUTELY FREE—To the person guessing closest to what this property will bring we will give $10.00 in gold and to person guessing next closest $5.00 in gold.

Possession January 1st, 1922. Terms liberal and made known on day of sale. Dinner on the ground. Look this property over and meet us there on sale day—WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3RD, at 10:00 A. M., and pound your bids at her.
